Goodwill Message

It is with immense joy and heartfelt gratitude that I congratulate the Ajilesoro Dynasty, the Ajilesoro Foundation, and Dr. Akeeb Oluola Ajilesoro on the successful completion of a befitting palace for the Obajio of Moore.

I have witnessed several palaces completed by the Ajilesoro Foundation, but this one is especially meaningful to me. My maternal grandfather, Chief James Adeyela (Aroworagba), was an Obajio of Moore from Apasa Compound. He had dreams of building a befitting palace on the land where my mother later built her house at No. 10 Moore, but his untimely death prevented him from seeing that dream fulfilled.

Therefore, on behalf of my family, the ruling houses, and the good people of Moore, I extend our deepest appreciation for this laudable initiative. Your efforts to honor our revered Obajio of Moore, Oba Yaya Elugbaju, and the people of Moore by uplifting and preserving our traditional institutions in Ife are commendable.

May posterity be kind and gracious to the Ajilesoro Dynasty. Ile-Ife a gbe yin, a gbe ran yin o.

Congratulations once again.

Congratulations TO ALL SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF MOORE AGBADA

Today is the day that the Lord has made, we will rejoice and be glad in it.

I rejoice with our dear father, His Royal Majesty Oba Akande Ejugbaju, Oramuyiwa 111, the Obajio of Moore Agbada (a direct descendant of Oranfe). The Baale of Moore, Loodoko of Moore, members of Obajio in council, as well as all sons and daughters of Moore Agbada on this joyous occasion of the dedication of Obajio palace.

This is an honour well deserved considering the importance and relevance of Moore Agbada in the history of Ile-Ife and the entire Yoruba race. Oja Ejugbo-Mekun, the most ancient market of the entire Yoruba race is located in Moore Agbada.

Moore Agbada played important role in hosting prominent and powerful visitors to Ootu-Ife in those days.

I can not but recognize the important role being played by Ajilesoro foundation, most importantly in the preservation and upgrading our cultural heritages. Oloдумare will continue to bless you. Once again congratulations.
